If the weather seems questionable, we suggest you call ahead.

Sponsored by the
Huntington Conservation Commission

Huntington boasts over 30,000 taps, which can be found in a mix of retail and private operations. This event is intended to raise awareness of the diversity of agriculture and forest products in our town. NOTE: Many Sugarmakers welcome visitors throughout the season, not just on open house day. If you can't make it out on the 29th, call one of the Sugarmakers listed above to see if they can accommodate a visit on another day. If they are boiling, chances are they'd be more than happy to have you stop by.
